Crunch

Crack

Okay, got one !

Ohh ..

Smash

... Eh ?
Is it defeated ..?

It was showing off and he got one, that's it ?!

This can't be good

Slash !

Crack !

Fu -

And all yours did was slash, few times

It ran out of powers !

Hiiic .. !

Flute ?

So, This is ..

the powers of his music?

Is this some kind of incantation?

Either way

Amazing ..

It defeated them at once !

This music

His sister's music ..

쿵
쿵
쿵

Silence.

Hey, if you had something amazing like this, you should have used it sooner.

Hey, hey, girl!

Hmm ?!

That music is ...

never meant to be any sort of incantation.

His author composed it

It was an impromptu

impromptu ?

What's that ?

That music that repelled them at once was something that was made out of thin air ?

Holy

Anyway ... he used to compose music with his author during childhood.

They went to the same music club in middle school also.

At one point, he wanted to compose music like his sister.

And then he realized

That how good her music was .

And that there was a huge gap between him and her.

Anyway, from an outsider's view, you can't really see anything on surface.

Only those who share the same profession or passion can see what it means to catch up who's superior

And he realized how bad he was .

Compared to her

The difference between one loved by what one does.

And one who is not loved by what one does .

Well, I am sure.. that will be everyone's dilemma at one point of their lives...

But having someone like that who's related by blood is harsh

Mmm ~~

Anyway, stop telling him it's great or whatnot

Ok, fine but

How can it or be effective if it wasn't meant to be an incantation?

Ugh, you bitch

There is an old saying that a poet's words can make spirits cry and make the sky and the ground rumble.

In other words, a grandmaester's work is sort of an incantation by itself

This music is like that

.. She composed this 3 years ago

The title is [The song of eternal peace.]

Using a bamboo stuck given by a dragon, a flute was crafted

When used, it's blow away all worries and bad luck

I understand that it is only a folklore..

But what kind of flute would be able to do that ...

It doesn't matter how good a flute is ! The player is far more important !

If such a flute really existed, it wasn't that the flute was great. It would have been the player and his music !

His music ?

Yes !

No matter how good a flute is

What really is important is the music that's played !

If such a music existed, it'd be like this

Let me see

... Anyway. Ok the title aside, it is about driving away bad luck or bad influences

Some common songs are kind of incantation by nature as well

... Anyway, the library

It certainly feels different from the one we were actually in.

Certainly .

Does this mean we crossed successfully... ?

That's a very old book

Let me see.

Kuoooooooooo -

Startle

Kkyuuuuuuuuo -

jump

jump

jump

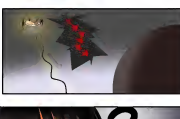
Flop

Flop

flop

flop

Kkuoooooooooo



뭐수스?
그래.
그런 선배에서 [문]의 선배지.

Kkeeeeeeeeeeee

... We are in the right place headache...

Hmm...

There is no doubt about it

Even the books in the shelves are different

So, we ran into the desk monsters after we crossed

The walls, floor, everything seems very old and neglected

And these strange pillars sticking out of walls ...

Not to mention the two crescent moons outside

Among these phenomena, I suppose that is the most damning evidence that we crossed the dimension

That

Ah !

Okay ! let's search this school !

Okie ! Adventure awaits !

Ok, let's go and see how the other school looks like !

Huh... ?

This is ... ?

... It looks na different from the original school ?

The same air is gone, too ..

Even the moon is back to being one

What's going on ..

Huh, Oh Se-Ah ?

I heard some noises, so I came to check out

But at least we now know this is the door to the other dimension

... By the way, this statue...

It's the statue of Janus

Janus ?

Yes

The God of gates from the ancient roman empire

The statue itself is a symbol...

Two difference faces ...

Since every door has front and back ...

The big question is why the statue of Janus is in here...

The statue is in the library ... where we tried to enter the dimension from...

So, the library is a door itself ...

And the real stuff it outside ...?

Okay ! let's search this school !

Okie ! Adventure awaits !

Ok, let's go and see how the other school looks like !

Huh... ?

This is ... ?

... It looks na different from the original school ?

The same air is gone, too ..

Even the moon is back to being one

What's going on ..

Huh, Oh Se-Ah ?

I heard some noises, so I came to check out

But at least we now know this is the door to the other dimension

... By the way, this statue...

It's the statue of Janus

Janus ?

Yes

The God of gates from the ancient roman empire

The clock is back to normal

Then this is the original school ... ?

Meaning we opened the door only to come back to the original school...?

How come ?

Why did we come back?

It took so much efforts to cross...

It's absolutely certain that we crossed, considering even there was a statue of Janus Does this mean there are other criterions?

Maybe...

It was because we fought the desk monsters... ?

Maybe we disturbed and triggered something.

Or spent too much time or something.

Well, time is past 1AM anyway

It's our time limit ...

We are done for the day

Time limit .

Hmm ... oh well Let's come back here tomorrow

There are still a lot of unanswered questions

Yeah

Gonna do this again tomorrow ..?

We will know then

Phew
